DETAILED ACTION

This application has been reviewed. The amended claims 1, 7, 13, 19, 22, 23, 30, 33, 34, 41, 44, 45, 52, 54, 55, and 57 and the original claims 2-6, 8-12, 14-18, 20, 21, 24-29, 31, 32, 35-40, 42, 43, 46-51, 53, and 56 are pending. The rejections are as follows.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed December 22, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
2. The applicant argues that Bush and Kennedy fail to disclose the following item(s) (paraphrased and shortened): In claim 1: the first and second elements (first capacity and second capacity). The Examiner shows that Bush does teach a first capacity and management cycle, as a capacity management method that recognizes the coupling of his system demands in a seasonal cycle, as shown in the Office Action mailed on September 27, 2006. Bush also discloses the use of a second capacity, as a research mode simulating a capacity management environment, also shown in the Office action mailed on September 27, 2006. Therefore, the rejection of claim 1 in the office action dated September 27, 2006 is maintained.
3. The applicant argues that Bush and Kennedy fail to disclose the following item(s) (paraphrased and shortened): In claim 7 and 13: exchanging the first capacity with the second and directing the first capacity to meet the second device design. Bush does disclose the a design for his invention, in that the first design can be substituted for the second design, and vice versa. Bush discloses this as, directing the first capacity to meet the second device design and the second capacity to meet the first device design, as shown in the Office Action mailed on September 27, 2006. Therefore, the rejection of claim 7 in the office action dated September 27, 2006 is maintained.

1. The applicant argues that Bush and Kennedy fail to disclose the following item(s) (paraphrased and shortened): In claim 19: the pull-in demand represents the demand for the second device design must be manufactured as soon as possible. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 19 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Kennedy shows that when a customer is not willing to wait the supply facility creates promises in advance that are available for immediate transfer, in the Summary of the Invention.

4. The applicant argues that Bush and Kennedy fail to disclose the following item(s) (paraphrased and shortened): In claims 30, 41, 52, and 55: where the pull-in demand represents a second device design must be manufactured as soon as possible.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 30, 41, 52, and 55 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Kennedy shows that when a customer is not willing to wait, the supply facility creates promises in advance that are available for immediate transfer, in the Summary of the Invention.

5. The applicant argues that Bush and Kennedy fail to disclose the following item(s) (paraphrased and shortened): The capacity exchange between device designs.

Kennedy shows this in the Abstract and Summary of the Invention.

Art Unit: 3691

6. The applicant argues that Bush and Kennedy fail to disclose the following item(s) (paraphrased and shortened): A "pull-in demand". The applicant also argues that a "pull-in" demand is old and well known in the art. Therefore, it is not necessary for the Bush reference to restate or redefine this item.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

5. Claim 1-57 rejections under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bush et al. (US 2003/0125996) in view of Kennedy et al. (US 6,188,989) are maintained. See the Response to Arguments above.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
